

Troubleshooting Through Video

Are you having a problem trying to figure out why your riding has faults? Why things are becoming difficult with you and your horse on the ground or and in the saddle?

Not everyone has the ability of having those “second set of eyes” sort of speak, to help you figure it out or as I say “troubleshoot” you, as things are going on with you and your horse. It’s easy to try to get advice by emailing or verbalizing it to not only trainers but to other equine enthusiasts. Or better yet, they are located in places that you simply cannot get too.

It never really gets the proper results or even gets the correct problem addressed because everyone’s interpretation is different in description and mostly miss what really is the situation.

Better yet, we go and buy video tapes on the “How to fix” without really understanding the ‘Why, How, and When’ and resulting in more confusion. Not realizing that every horse and human have different learning curves, and results often vary.

I have come up with a great way to help along the Horses Human’s to really create and discover the Partnership & Confidence Horsemanship they both never knew they could have. It’s almost like a homework tool personalized for you, your horse, and YOUR work that needs to address from a professional set of eyes.

Troubleshoot Through Video.

This is how it works:

Video you and your horse either a ground lesson or a saddle lesson describing what the situation is. Send me the video through an email ways of via your phone or youtube, pay through pay pal, and you will get a personal troubleshooting how to improve yourself or what homework you need to work on to help improve your situation.

Your personalized critique is from Katherine Barbarite of Whispering Hooves, a professional International Certified Horse Trainer, a Certified Horsemanship Association Riding Instructor with over 30 years experiences with thousands of horses and riders in the privacy of your own home.

The personalized advice specializing in Partnership & Confidence Building Horsemanship, awaken your awareness of Behavior to Mechanics to finesse your education. Just consider the thought of working on ‘your” inconsistencies instead of someone else’s false confidence.
